

NEWBERRY FIGHT NOT YET AT END

EFFORT FAILS TO INSURE VOTE TODAY—OUTCOME RESTS ON FINAL POSITION TO BE TAKEN BY SEVERAL SENATORS

Washington, Jan. 12.—The fight in the senate over the right of Truman H. Newberry (Republican) of Michigan to a seat in that body, which has been contested by Henry Ford, his opponent in the 1918 election, continued in all of its intensity today. When the session ended tonight predictions of the outcome generally were held in abeyance, so uncertain had the result become. It was agreed among leaders that the outcome, rested on the final position to be taken by fewer than half a dozen senators, whose attitude has not been disclosed.

Hopes for a vote today were dashed early by last minute demands of senators desiring more time to speak. Even an attempt by Senator Spencer (Republican) of Missouri who is leading the Newberry supporters to obtain an agreement to vote at 4 o'clock tomorrow was blocked, Senator King (Democrat) of Utah objecting. Mr. King suggested the agreement might be entered into tomorrow if brought up then.

The introduction of two new resolutions dealing with Mr. Newberry's right to a seat also complicated efforts to bring their controversy to a close and deferred agreement on a possible voting time. As a result of the new resolutions being put in, those senators whose time had been exhausted under the hour of limitation imposed by unanimous consent, again could gain the floor and several took advantage of the opportunity.

The resolutions brought in today, both to declare the seat vacant, were by Senators Owen of Oklahoma and Walsh of Montana, Democrats. Mr. Owensad he had sought to eliminate all disputed points in the controversy so that the senate could determine solely whether it was sound public policy that such large amounts of money should be expended in a campaign. Mr. Walsh's resolution represented a recasting of his original proposition declaring the seat vacant but redrafted "to express in firmest tone" a statement of the senate's views with respect to the welfare of the nation, when large sums of money are used in a campaign election.

The possibility of a move by the Democrats to seek the recommit the whole case to the senate elections and privileges committee temporarily set aside during the day, was talked of again after the close of the debate. No decision was reported, however, as to whether such a motion should be made. Leaders said tonight that further informal conferences would be held among the Democrats before the senate meets tomorrow.

FERTILIZER MILLS TRY TO RETRENCH

BUSINESS OUTLOOK COMES UP TO LAST YEAR—OUTPUT TO BE REGULATED BY DEMAND AND ALSO BY ABILITY TO PAY NOT PRODUCING MUCH.

Charleston, Jan. 12.—With several more or less perplexing factors entering into the situation, the outlook for the fertilizer industry in Charleston, as well as in the South generally, is regarded as problematical; but on the whole it can be stated that this industry, which is one of Charleston's most important, has passed the worst period of the depression which struck it with full force last year, and is now groping its way to a more hopeful condition. One local fertilizer man is of the opinion that the business this year will in volume be approximately the same as last year, when just about half the normal business was done.

The session of fertilizer shipments usually commence here about January 1 to January 15, but this year it is not expected to open until at least February 1. With few exceptions, the local factories have been closed since last March, a few being temporarily in operation now. The factories have adopted a very conservative policy in manufacturing and are not producing beyond what is required to take care of current business. It has been a number of months since acid phosphate, one of the most important of fertilizers, has been manufactured, and if the demand for this product is as great as last year, there is likely to be a shortage. The stocks on hand at present in the factories consist almost entirely of raw products.

1921 HEALTHIEST YEAR, BUT AUTO DEATHS HIGHER

Over 150,000 Fewer Deaths Than in Previous Year Says Life Insurance Man.

New York, Jan. 12.—There were 153,000 fewer deaths in the United States and Canada in 1921 than in 1920, said Robert Lynn Cox, 3rd vice-president of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, in an address before the 15th annual convention of the Association of Life Insurance Presidents here recently.

Mr. Cox presented statistics based upon official records of companies transacting 80 per cent of the life insurance business which he said, may "indicate the dawn of a material lengthening of the span of human life in the two countries." The figures show that this year will be entered on the records as "the healthiest ever experienced." Motor-driven vehicles, however, are exacting an alarmingly growing toll of victims.

The statistics compiled from the mortality experience of 37 companies, covered 27,000,000 human lives which of necessity reflect the general health conditions throughout the country. The most amazing factor in the health situation of the year drawing to a close, according to Mr. Cox, is the almost complete disappearance of influenza as a cause of death, only 1,716 being reported for 10 months of 1921 as against 25,400 for the corresponding period of 1920, which was not regarded as an epidemic year.

Excess insurance losses of 1918 and 1919 occasioned by influenza were estimated conservatively at more than $170,000,000. The present year's mortality gain, translated in the money saved in the payment of death claims by all life insurance companies of the United States for 1921, measured by outstanding insurance, according to Mr. Cox, will amount in round numbers to at least $51,000,000.

"A matter of no small concern among increasing causes of death," said Mr. Cox, "is the steadily mounting mortality caused by automobiles and other motor-driven vehicles. The number of deaths in 1921, reported by the life insurance companies that furnished their figures for the compilation on which this paper is based, was 2,624, an increase of nearly 15 per cent over 1920. DUE WEST NEWS. A. R. Presbyterian

Three new students entered Erskine after the holidays.

Until further notice the preaching at the Baptist church on the third Sunday will be held at 3 p. m. Mrs. R. S. Ellis returned last week after several days' visit to friends in Rock Hill and Edgemoor. We hope Bro. E. B. McGill has gotten that suit by now. After his tribulations he deserves it.

Miss Kate Kennedy left last Monday for Bartow, Fla. to visit her sister, Mrs. Jean Kennedy Smith.

Cutting down the elevation on the upper part of the Woman's College Campus will improve the looks of the campus.

Mrs. George Waterhouse, sister of Miss Crofut of the Woman's College faculty, has been a guest of Miss Crofut for some days.

Ansel Putnam had a slight operation performed last week in Anderson. He was away from home two or three days. He is getting along quite nicely.

The week of prayer was observed in the Due West A. R. P church last week. The services took place from 4 to 5 p. m. The different ministers in town had charge of the meetings.

The Erskine College Library composed of all the libraries on the campus, is now kept open from 6 o'clock to 7:30 to accommodate the students. This in addition to the regular hours during the day.

It is a pleasure to know that Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Todd have discovered what was the matter with their little son. A few days ago he coughed up a cocklebur which had been in its throat for about four weeks. The child is now doing well. A number of doctors had examined the little patient.

Miss Crofut and Miss Gilliard of the Woman's College are busy practicing with their Glee Club and Orchestra preparatory to making a trip to Chester, York, Clover, Gastonia and possibly other points. These ladies have some excellent material in the composition of the Glee Club and Orchestra. Some of Erskine's musical talent is on the list of those taking part. Some 15 to 20 persons make up the troupe. Adjacent towns to Due West will be visited also.

HOPE FOR BALD HEADS

Living "the Natural Life" Essential Says Dr. Estes

Trenton, N. J., Jan. 10.—Declaring that there was hope for the bald-headed man if he would live "the natural life" and eat raw food, Dr. St. Louis Estes, first vice president of the International Institute of Applied Psychology of Chicago, in an address before the convention of the American Academy of Applied Dental Science today, told how he himself had been a nervous wreck, bald-headed and a "candidate for the cemetery," but, by living naturally and avoiding cooked foods he said he had regained robust health and a thick crop of hair.

Dr. Estes said "the natural life" included plenty of exercise, fresh air, water and the eating of uncooked foods.
